6 reasons why the Stradbroke villa could be ideal for you!

A Focus on our Stradbroke Style Villas!

If you're thinking about moving into a retirement village and a simpler, more fulfilling lifestyle, you might also be considering downsizing from a larger family home. This combination of stylish, open and airy living space along with plenty of storage has made the Stradbroke design one of Renaissance's most popular villa designs!

1 Two queen size bedrooms

Let's start with the heart of the home – the bedroom. The Stradbroke villa features two good sized bedrooms, each large enough to comfortably fit a Queen size bed with plenty of space besides. It lets you maintain two separate bedrooms if you desire, or to keep one space ready for when friends or family come to stay with you in your home.

2 Two bathrooms

It's no fun having to fight over one bathroom when you have good friends or family over to stay with you in your villa! The Stradbroke is fully kitted out with 2 bathrooms; the main bathroom that's ideal for everyday use or for visitors, and the ensuite to the master bedroom for your daily convenience.

3 A large separate study room

Located just off the Stradbroke's dining room is a large study room. It's perfect for use as a TV room, media room, craft or hobby room, reading room, or even as an extra bedroom for when visitors come and stay with you.

4 An abundance of storage space

The Stradbroke features a separate entry storage cupboard, a linen cupboard, and even more storage in the laundry. The master bedroom features not only a walk-in robe but a built in robe as well. It all adds up to a home with plenty of space for you to neatly store what's important to you.

5 Open plan lounge, kitchen and dining area

There's nothing worse than having friends over for dinner – and then being cut off from them and isolated in the kitchen while you prepare the meal! The Stradbroke avoids this issue with its open plan living arrangement, that lets you remain part of the conversation and the party while you're preparing food for your guests as they relax and enjoy the vibe

6 A spacious, light and airy feel

The Stradbroke's 9ft ceilings give it an open, welcoming and spacious ambience. The high ceilings ensure plenty of natural light and fresh air can enter the villa, helping to make your home for retirement much more appealing. It's also easier to cool a home with high ceilings, which means they're more energy-efficient too. The full ducted air conditioning system means you'll be comfortable in your retirement, keeping you warm and toasty in winter and cool and refreshed in the summer months.

Special BUS TRIP to the Gold Coast!

In July some of our residents visited the new Rydges Gold Coast Airport Hotel for a tour, lunch and hung out in the surf!

Hosting local lawn bowls clubs

In July we also enjoyed a lovely morning hosting members of Belmont Bowls Club to the village to enjoy a social game of Mixed Triples with the Renaissance Residents Team. It was such a warm sunny day and all participants were treated to a traditional Roast Beef & Yorkshire Pud Lunch afterwards!

What a milestone!

Congratulations to Renaissance Residents Anthony and Janet who celebrated 60 years of marriage on the 24th June! What a beautiful journey they've had together! Wishing them both more happy and healthy years ahead together at Renaissance!
